Re: Nationals Park Structural Steel Fabrication

Dear Don:

On behalf of Clark Construction, I want to personally thank Banker Steel Company and all of its employees who helped to make the building of Nationals Park a tremendous success. It was the direct efforts of Banker Steel that made it possible to meet a record setting schedule while maintaining stellar quality and workmanship. Banker “stepped up to the plate” early in the process and was willing to take on a structural design only schematically complete and help transform it into a precise model and ultimately actual steel members using the latest BIM technology. This helped to ensure an on time and accurate delivery of structural steel.

This commitment to excellence does not come from technology and processes alone. Banker Steel has a committed group of managers and craftsmen that worked as a team with the Design Engineers, Architects, Owner, Erector, and General Contractor to help accomplish the goal. As a result, the project has won craftsmanship, design-build, and many other national awards and has been highly regarded throughout the country as a model design-build project. Again, we could not have achieved all of this without Banker Steel.

We thank you and your team for your commitment and look forward to continuing our successful relationship on current and future projects.

Sincerely,
THE CLARK CONSTRUCTION GROUP, LLC
